Orders of Protection or Injunction Against Harassment (OOP/IAH)

Eligible customers may apply to have certain information redacted (hidden) from their MVD records to ensure it is not publicly available. Redacting a customer's personal information is done by adding a characteristic to their customer record.

If a customer's information is hidden, do not make any attempt to view their confidential data unless it is necessary to conduct Division business on their behalf.

OOP/IAH Eligibility

An eligible person, as defined in statute, may petition the court to prevent his/her identifying information from being disclosed to any person except as provided by law.

If approved, the court will electronically send the information to the Division so their Customer Record may be redacted in MAX.

If the OOP/IAH Redaction characteristic is not on record, contact the OOP/IAH Desk; they may require you to fax the court order.

OOP/IAH Redaction: AZ MVD Now Services

Customers with an OOP/IAH redacted characteristic do not have the ability to active or utilize an AZ MVD Now account without having the redaction lifted first. This decision was made for security reasons by the Secretary of State and OIG.

A customer with a OOP/IAH Redaction may utilize the Express Services on AZ MVD Now when they select 'Continue as Guest' without lifting their redaction. Their information will display as redacted.
