User Assistance

User Assistance provides context specific help related to the service you are performing so you won't have to interrupt what you are doing to find the information.

You'll find information on services that may require additional assistance because of complexity, exceptions, or they are infrequently performed. It may also contain hyperlinks to policies or forms that may be helpful to the service you are performing.

In the future, it will also include search functionality so you can search the entire help database for assistance, including training materials.

To open User Assistance, click the Help Icon. The User Assistance panel will open with all of the help content related to the screen you are viewing.
