

Acceptable Documentation for Non-Commercial Credentials

Acceptable Documents

Primary forms of identification are used to establish the customer's name, DOB, and authorized presence in the U.S. Primary documentation provided must be listed on the primary identification list and contain the full name and DOB. In addition to at least one document from the primary identification list, the customer must provide their full social security number for verification purposes.

- Original Credentials have a 10-year retention period (from date of issuance) for all source documents provided to establish a name and date of birth, including the Credential Application. All source documents must be scanned within the service when issuing:
 - Original Identification Card or Driver License
 - Original Travel Credential
 - Original Instruction Permit
 - A Credential Renewal with a 'Pre 96' characteristic, view Authorized Presence topic > Pre 96 Characteristic section for more information
- One Primary form of identification, view the Acceptable Primary Documents section for a listing of acceptable primary forms of identification
- Social Security Number written by the customer on their application, view Policy 7.1.8 Social Security Online Verification \(SSOLV\) for more information

- The last four numbers of the SSN on the application is acceptable for existing customers or system generated applications (verbal confirmation may be required)
- The full SSN is required on the application for new customers that fill out the application by hand (not system generated)

The Division will not issue a credential when the customer presents documentation that does not appear to be legitimate or acceptable. View the Fraudulent Documents or Identity topic for more information if documentation does not appear to be legitimate.

Foreign applicants are required to provide original documents when requesting an original, reinstatement or renewal of any credential type. Credentials issued to foreign applicants will expire according to the documents presented for authorized presence.

Foreign applicants applying for an Arizona credential should be assisted by a foreign documents expert.
