Residency Requirements

Residents of Arizona are required to have an Arizona Driver License and/or Arizona Vehicle Registration, those persons are:

- A person who, regardless of domicile, remains in this state for a cumulative period of seven months or more per calendar year
- Any person who engages in a trade, profession or occupation, or who accepts employment except for:
 - Seasonal agricultural work
 - Temporary seasonal work for a period of not more than three months in the state, in which the temporary seasonal worker is permanently domiciled, has a similar exception
- Any person placing children in a public school in Arizona without payment of non-resident tuition fees
- Any person who declares they are a resident of this state for the purpose of obtaining, at resident rates, a state license or tuition fees at an educational institution maintained by public funds (e.g., ASU, U of A, NAU)
- Any person operating a vehicle for their employer, which bases and operates motor vehicles in this state, and uses the vehicles for intrastate operation other than seasonal agricultural work
- Any person who is registered to vote in this state

A Resident Does Not Mean

- A nonresident owner of a vehicle that is registered and in a state adjoining this state and used in this state for the transportation of passengers or property for compensation, or if the nonresident owner and vehicle are domiciled in an adjoining state, as long as the owner resides and the vehicle is registered in that state, regardless of whether the nonresident owner engages in a trade, profession or occupation in this state or accepts employment
- An out-of-state student enrolled with seven or more semester hours regardless of whether the student engages in a trade, profession or occupation in this state or accepts employment in this state. For the purposes of this paragraph, "out-of-state student" means either:
 - A person who is enrolled at an educational institution maintained by public monies and who is not classified as an in-state student
 - A person who is a student at a private educational institution and who would not be classified as an in-state student
