Trailer Identification

There are many different types of trailers the Division titles and/or registers. The type of trailer determines the title and/or registration eligibility.

■ Travel or Tent Trailer

- A non-powered recreational vehicle designed as temporary living quarters for recreational, camping, or travel use
- Annual registration (1, 2, or 5 years)

■ Non-Commercial - Permanent

- For personal use only; owner must certify the trailer will not be used commercially
- Trailer is not a travel or tent trailer
- Customer declares the trailer's weight between 1 to 10,000 lbs.
- Permanent registration

■ Commercial - Permanent

- For commercial or business use
- Customer declares the trailer can hold more than 10,001 lbs.
 - If this type is selected, the weight of the trailer, the trailer's load, the power unit, and the power unit's load must be declared on the registration of the power unit
- Permanent registration

■ Commercial - Non-Permanent

- For commercial or business use
- Customer declares the trailer's weight between of 1 to 10,000 lbs
- Annual registration (1, 2, or 5 years)
 - Weight fees apply
 - Customer question: What is the weight of your trailer plus the maximum weight you will load on the trailer?
 - View the Weight Chart Gross Weight Fees \(WGT\) for the appropriate Gross Weight Fee

■ Homemade Trailer

- A trailer that has been configured, constructed together, and 'made at home' by private individuals

- Based on use and declared gross weight, the trailer can be registered as any of the above trailers

For the customer:

You may be cited by law enforcement and fined civil penalties for weight violations.

Additional information regarding civil penalties can be found in A.R.S. 28-5438.

There may be additional related fees for the registration of your commercial or non-commercial trailer.

Trailer License Plates

- All trailers are issued the same Trailer plate format, but have a choice in the size of plate, which usually depends on the size of the trailer:
 - Regular trailer plate (6x12)
 - Small-size trailer plate (4x7) (like a Motorcycle plate)
 - Trailer plates can be personalized
 - Maximum number of characters allowed is seven for the full size; five for the small size
- Permanently registered trailers will be given a PERM tab to be displayed on the Trailer plate*
- Non-permanently registered trailers will be given a month and year tab to be displayed on the Trailer plate

*Any permanently registered trailer that has a special and/or personalized plate will receive a year decal to show the PLATE expiration date.

View the Permanent Registration & Special Plates section for more information.

Trailer Fees

Registration fees for trailers will depend on the declared gross weight and the usage of the trailer.

View the Non-Commercial and Commercial Trailers topic or the Travel and Tent Trailers topic for more detailed information on fees. View the Trailer Registration Reference Chart below for an overview of trailer fees.

► Trailer Registration Reference Chart

The declared gross weight provided by the owner is entered in the Declared GVW field on the Title and Registration tab during a service and will be displayed in the Declared Weight field under the Registration section on the Vehicle Information Page.

Data Entry for Trailer Models

When adding a trailer VIN to MAX, VINtelligence will not auto-populate the model for most trailers. View the Add a Vehicle topic > Adding a Vehicle Type = Trailer section.
